I would appreciate you signing the attached memorandum to the Chief of the Printing and Photography Group, DA, in recognition of that group's efforts in producing the transition notebooks. The project was unusually difficult, and the printers richly deserve compliments for completing it on time.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Printing and Photography Group

VIA: Director, Office of Logistics, DA
Deputy Director for Administration

FROM: William H. Webster
Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Appreciation for Producing the Key National Security Issues Notebook

1. I want to express my personal appreciation for a job well done in producing the Key National Security Issues notebook for the President-elect and his new administration, while adhering to your normally rigorous schedule of serial publications and other important deadlines. This was a technically complex project and one that required repeated updating to ensure its accuracy when presented last Thursday morning. I am pleased to report that President-elect Bush was delighted with the product and carried it with him on his "vacation" trip to Florida later that day.

2. Please extend my sincere thanks to all of your employees who participated in this highly worthwhile and successful effort.
